

Meaningfulness experiment

Welcome, and thank you for contributing to Karl-Gustav's master thesis!

Your participation in this research study is highly valued as we explore the intriguing world of visual perception. In this experiment, you will be presented with ten images, and for each image, you'll find some concepts present in the image. Some concepts there are random, some are not. You're required to choose all correct ones.

Your honest responses will significantly contribute to Karl-Gustav's research
