

Intuitivness explanations

Welcome, and thank you for contributing to Karl-Gustav's master thesis!

Your participation in this research study is highly valued as we explore the intriguing world of visual perception and intuitivness understanding.

In this experiment, you will be presented with ten captivating images, and for each image, you'll find two different explanations related to its content.

Your task is straightforward yet vital: carefully observe each image and consider the explanations provided. There are no right or wrong answers – we are interested in your subjective perception and preferences.

To ensure an optimal viewing experience, please feel free to zoom in if any image appears too small. Your honest responses will significantly contribute to Karl-Gustav's research
